

Our Map Policy

When submitting your map to our network we have the right to revamp/edit, create variations/sequels of your map and/or remove your map from our rotations/repositories, at any time. We do not own the map, however, submitting your map grants us those rights. The map author reserves the right to veto any revamp/edits, variations & sequels, however they cannot veto a removal of their map from rotations. The map author reserves the right to request for their map to be taken down / removed from our rotations at any time and we shall remove the map from our rotations.

In the an event a user that is not a staff member but a community member who wants to create Variations/Sequels/Revamps/Edits of your map, they must contact the map author or a Map Administrator or Owner. Sequels of someone else's map are not permitted to be created by a community member, that isn't staff. If they do create a sequel of someone else's map the map will be denied. The only exception is if permission was granted by the map author or a Map Admin or The Owner.

Some maps may be uploaded to the MC Resource Pile repository online. If a map is uploaded, appropriate credit is given and the license is non-commercial (unless the author wishes to change it). If the you specifically does not want your map on the MC Resource Pile website, please make sure to let us know when submitting your map.
